

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE OFFICERS
OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

DATE: 13 May 1974

TO: Messrs. Stoertz and

FROM: GACarver, Jr.

SUBJECT:

REMARKS:

Attached is a self-explanatory packet from Bill Colby circulating a thank you note from Jan Lodal. I am on the hook to let the DCI "know the names of all concerned." Would each of you, therefore, please give me as comprehensive a list as you can. In this sphere, please do not be excessively modest. If your own names or those of your assistants deserve to be on the list, do not hesitate to say so.

Dear Bill,

During the last several weeks, we have requested special assistance from your SALT staff on a number of occasions. Our requests were generated on short notice and required a rapid response. Much of the work was related to our preparation for Secretary Kissinger's SALT discussions in Moscow with the Soviet leadership.

Your SALT Support Staff headed by [] along with key personnel in OWI, OSR and elsewhere in the agency, made an outstanding contribution to our preparations for Secretary Kissinger's visit and to our subsequent analysis of several issues which came up in Moscow. I had the opportunity to review most of the analytical material with the Secretary and he agreed the work was first rate, particularly considering the short time allowed for preparation.

Please convey our thanks to all your personnel involved and express our appreciation for a job well done.

Sincerely,

JAN M. LODAL
Director, Program Analysis

The Honorable William E. Colby
Director of Central Intelligence
